

---

We artists must grow to realize that higher consciousness is an energy, not a state of mind.

One is either acquiring or expressing consciousness; there is nothing in between except the tedium of biological activities.

